MINEOLA WINS MATCH RACE.

DEFEATS VIRGINIA IN CLOSE CONTEST ON THE SOUND.

Amateurs Man the Yachts, While Professionals Watch the Sport-A. G. Hanan Salls the Winner and W. K. Vanderbilt. Jr., the Loser-Another Race Arranged

The Mineola, sailed by Addison G. Hanan manned by a crew of members of Indian Harbor Yacht Club, defeated the Virginia, sailed by Commodore W. K. Vanderbilt, Jr., and manned by a crew of Seawanhaka Corinthian sailors, yesterday in a match race on the Sound by 3 minutes 54 seconds. It was a day on which the yachtsmen had to work, and the sailors watched their bosses from the decks of the steam yachts Mermaid and Tarantula. The yachtsmen acquitted themselves well, and the sailors could not and any fault with the way the boats were handled. Each skipper handled his boat like an expert, and the crews were smart with their work. To-day they will be busy picking splinters out of their hands, and their arms will ache and faces and arms tingle from the effect of the sun's rays.

The match was suggested by Commodore w. K. Vanderbilt, Jr. Each boat was to have a crew of amateurs on board. Four professionals were to be allowed on each boat, scook a steward, a masthead man—because unless one has experience and a steady head masthead work is dangerous—and a lazaret man to handle the sails below. The prize was a $100 trophy to be paid for by the club to which the losing boat belonged. The owner of the losing boat is to present to each member of the winning crew a souvenir the race not to cost more than $5, and the losing crew is to entertain the winning crew at dinner. It was a sportsman's proposition, and W.Ross Proctor, owner of the Mineola. accepted at once.
Addison G. Ha G. Hanan was chosen sailing master of the Mineola. His brother, H. Wilmer Hanan, was mate. Frank Bowne and T. J. McCahill, Jr., were the quarter-masters, and the seamen were W. H. McCord, Clifford B. Mallory, E. C. Myrick, Henry Sampson, Jr., H. Wilber Paret, Charles E Simms, Elmer R. Jacobs, George E. Gartland, Charles W. Allen, Paul Allen, E. C. Ray, Jr., L. S. Conover, Barrett Jones, J. S. Johnson, Waldo Sheldon, A. B. Brush, Morgan Barney, H. Herbert Jennings, Horatio S. Shonhard and W. R ss Proctor, the owner.

On the Virginia were W. K. Vanderbilt, Jr. sailing master; Clinton H. Crane, mate; R. S. Chisholm, Waiter T. Churchill, M. H. Clark, H. M. Crane, D. L. Elliman, R. A. Grannis, Jr. Frank S. Hastings, De Forest Hicks, C. Sherman Hoyt, J. Sherman Hoyt, Alfred D. Hunt, G. D. Leonard, Clinton McKenzie, S. R. Outerbridge, J. Hopkins Smith, Francis Q Stewart, W. A. W. Stewart, Harold H. Weekes Percy Weekes, J. Clinton Work and J. Fred-

The Mineola got ready early in the morning at Indian Harbor. The professionals, including Capt. Barr, were transferred to the Mermaid, Mr. Proctor's steam yacht, and the amateurs took charge. Mrs. Proctor presented to each man a red and white stocking cap, the colors of the Indian Harbor Yacht Club, and this gave them a very "square head" appearance. Each man wore white duck trousers, a white shirt and the cap. and Capt. Addison Hanan wore a blue uniform and looked a real understudy for Capt. Barr. An unknown admirer also sent two tiny Persian kittens to the yacht, which the crew promptly said were "mascats," not mascots.
The Virginia got ready at Oyster Bay Capt. Vanderbilt wore a blue uniform, but his crew were not togged out in the regulation way like the men on the Mineola, but they were ready for work and gave a good account of themselves in the race. The Virginia's men were sent on board the Tarantula, which men were sent on board the Tarantula, which lost acted as the committee boat.

H. H. Landon, Howard C. Smith of the Seavanhaka Corinthian club and Charles F. Mirby of the Indian Harbor club acted as the committee. On board the Tarantula were Walter E. Kerr, Charles W. Wetmore, E. M. McLielan, J. Arthur Harriman, J. Edwards Ficken and A. C. Cassatt and J. E. Harding, State Senators from Ohio.

The course selected was the triangle over which the Indian Harbor Yacht Club sails its races, only starting from the buoy off Lloyd's Point and going to Captains island, then to Green Ledge and home, a distance of 20% miles. The wind when the yachts reached the starting line was light from the west northwest, so that the first leg of the course was to windward. There was no delay about the preliminaries, and the first signal was given promptly at 2 o'clock. Both yachts were then to the westward of the starting line, the men standing at stations ready for any order. On the Virginia a small jib topsiven promptly at 2 o'clock. Both yachts were then to the westward of the starting line, the men standing at stations ready for any order. On the Virginia a small jib topsil had been sent up in stops, and it was soon broken out and sheeted down. On the Mincola Mate Hanan had a No. 2 jib topsail sent up, and he waited until the captain gave the order for its breaking out.

The Mincola gradually worked into the weather position, and when three minutes were left of the preparatory time bore off and stood for the line. She had the wind almost aft and her sheets trimmed flat, with the boom on the starboard side. Capt. Vanderbilt very neatly put the Virginia astern of the Mincola and then worked out to get on the weather quarter of that boat, and it looked as if he would be successful.

"Break out your jib topsail," shouted Capt. Addison Hanan.

"Break out the jib topsail," repeated Mate W. H. Hanan in true nautical style. Five listy amateurs tugged, and the topsail sheet and the sail futtered in the wind. It filled at once, and the yacht gained headway, so that she pulled ahead of the Virginia and crossed the line 55 seconds after the signal. Then she hauled on the wind and stood across the Sound on the port tack.

The Virginia seemed to lose headway after this and crossed the line 40 seconds later, but with little headway. Capt. Vanderbilt at once took the starboard tack, and a few minutes later went on the port tack. The wind shifted to west by south, but it was so light that the crews on the two boats were to leeward to heel them.

It was simple salling on this leg, and in time they drew near the first mark. The second leg was to be before the wind, so light sails had to be handled. Spinnaker poles were lovered to port on each boat and the spinnakers got out and sent up to the masthead. The Mincola turned the first mark at 2:57:27 and the Virginia at 8:00.08. The Mincola swar in mutes 41 seconds ahead.

Then the fun began. As the Mincola swung off at the mark the main sheet men, with T. J. McCahill at their head, main sheet, the forward men swings the spinnaker pole out and guyed it and were ready in a very short time to break out the spinnaker when ordered.

The wind had gone further to the south, and Capt. Hanan quickly decided that the spinnaker should be carried on the starboard side. This meant a jibe, and the order yas given. The main sheet men got to work, kinmed in quickly and soon the big sail went over, but none too neatly. A turn of the sheet slipped off the cleat, and the boom went over with a slam. No damage was done. The spinnaker men shifted the pole to the port side, but it was found that some very zealous sailor had made the main sheet last on the winch over the jib topsail sheet, so the boom had to be jibed back sgain.

Then the recording a ngel was kept busy for some time and it is said that he filled several pages of his book. In the meantime he yacht had worked near the rocks, and capt. Hanan was worried. Besides, the Virginia was gaining fast. Back the boom was jibed again, and this time the preventers were fouled, and Capt. Barr, who was watching the fun, nearly had heart disease because he fancied he saw the topmast going out of the yacht. At last all was fair and the spinnaker was sent up and broken out, but it had taken e minutes its seconds to get the big kits aloft, and after that the steward was greatly in demand.

On the Virginia things were done a little more smartly. The boom was jibed over to bort and the spinnaker set up and broken out, but it had taken e minutes its seconds to get the wind, and this was taken in and another sent up ready for the next leg. Snapping on a lib topsail is ticklish work. H. M. Crane and Clinton McKenzie, the end men on the bowsprit, stood out there as though they had never done anything else all their lives, and the sail was neatly doused and the other side, and then they were carried limest up to the second mark. The Mircola lurned this mark at 404:16 and the Virginia had gaired 38 seconds.

The wind then came from the southwest fand made it windward work a the Virginia lost the jib topsall sheet and the sail was lowered. Efforts were made to set it flying, but these were given up, and the yacht probably did better without the sail. The Mineola made four tacks to fetch the mark, while Capt. Vanderbilt was able to letch inside Lloyd's Point on one long starboard tack and then with one hitch of about a minute fetched the line. The finishing times were: Mineola, 4:35:02. Virginia, 4:45:56.

The amateurs were taken off and the professionals took the yachts to the harbor. As soon as the Mineola crew was on the Mermaid that boat ran over to the Virginia and gave three rousing cheers, and the Virginia men cheered back. Just who was responsible for the efroy on the Mineola no one would say, but T. J. McCahill said his choulders were broad enough to carry the blame.

shoulders were broad enough to carry the blame.
There was talk of a return match at once, and Saturday was suggested as the day. This is the date for the annual regatta of the Indian Harbor Yacht Club. Three of the Mincola's crew and eight other members want to sail their own boats. So it was decided that the return race should be sailed in September, the exact date to be settled laser. SHINNECOCK GOLF TOURNEY. Travis, Travers, Peters and MoBurney Among These Who Will Start.

SOUTHAMPTON, L. I., July 26 .- To-mor row's tournament at the Shinnecock Hills Golf Club will be a thorough trial of local candidates for the national championship. The field of seventy will include Walter J. Travis, Jerome D. Travers, Ralph Peters, Jr., and Malcolm McBurney, who won in the final last year from Jerome Travers. It will be the first meeting of Travis and Travers on a full course since the latter won from the old champion in the Metropolitan Golf Association championship. Travis since then has defeated the youngster over the nine hole Westbrook links and also won the Great island tournament, while Travers has won the Apawamis tournament and been runner up in the Englewood tournament. Peters on his last appearance made the new record of 75 at Englewood and Malcoim McBurney has been on edge with the Harvard team. of 75 at Englewood and Malcolm McBurney

CRICKET.

Philadelphia Colts Bat Well Against Maryle

PHILADELFRIA, July 28.—Fresh from their victory over the Gentlemen of Philadelphia, the Marylebone cricket team began here to-day on the grounds of the Philadelphia C. C., at Wissahickon Heights, a match against the Colts. The Colts received a handleap in being allowed to play 17 and, in addition, to have a full grown captain in the person of Sydney Young.

The Associated Cricket Clubs made every effort to select the most representative lot of young cricketers in the Quaker City and of young cricketers in the Quaker City and scoured every club for likely candidates. The following are the seventeen chosen: H. H. Morris, A. G. Hare, F. D. Godley, L. Lee, J. R. Vetterlein of Merion, W. P. Newhall, A. G. Priestman, A. N. Goodfellow of Germantown, S. H. Hart, C. H. Dixon Philadelphia and H. Furness of Haddonfield. The boys had the advantage of batting first on a good wicket and made the most of first on a good wicket and made the most of their opportunities. The play was slow, but some excellent cricket was seen. C. Graham batted like an international player in a fine innings of 5i; and there is no doubt that he will get a trial in the next match for the Gentlemen of Philadelphia.

A. G. Priestman, A. N. Goodfellow and C. B. Dixon also did good work with the willow and added substantial scores to the total, while H. W. Doughten, L. Lee and F. D. Godley all get into the double figure list. The game will be pontinued at 11:30 to-morrow.

PUBLIC AUCTIONS.

The period between July and September inclusive always makes more or less of a break in the continuity of realty trading. The character of the dealing which prevalls in the fall of the year is seldom the same as that of the activity most prominent in the preceding spring. In resuming operation in the autumn brokers, opera-in the preceding spring. In resuming operation in the autumn brokers, operators and builders are guided by developments in the renting market during the midsummer months. The present renting season is hardly far enough advanced to indicate fully what kind of property will furnish the best opportunities for investment and speculation next fall. It is already apparent, however, that there is a pronounced shortage of low and middle grade private dwellings.

Very few houses of this description are to let this year. Such houses have ceased to be held for the purpose of investment. They come upon the market when owners have no further personal use for them, and are then offered for rent only in case ready buyers are not to be found. At the present time unoccupied dwellings are so scarce that there is no difficulty in securing purchasers. The demand, however, is almost exclusively for premises valued at less than $125,000. Expensive residences are hard to dispose of. There is little inquiry for them on the part of either tenants or buyers. Nearly thirty new houses erected in the Fifth avenue district before the close of 1903 still remain unsold. These range in price from $150,000 to $550,000.

The demand for low and middle grade dwellings, on the other hand, is exceptionally good. The dealing has so far affected mainly old houses between Fiftyninth and Ninety-sixth streets, from Madison to Lexington avenue, and on the West Side. However, the supply of old houses

It is, consequently, believed that builders will be encouraged to project new dwelling houses on a notable scale next fail outside the fashionable Fifth avenue district. The renting situation is regarded as warranting a revival of private house building in good neighborhoods where constructions of moderate cost prevail.

It is a safe, sound investment that will rapidly increase in value and pay substantial dividends.
Buy it. Buy it. Buy it,
Secure some on the New York Curb market, now around $2 a share, before the price goes away up. I have sound reason to believe American Nickel stock will sell at $60 a share. The greatest experts and mining engineers say "the nickel ore already in sight, exposed afters years of development work, will gay annual dividends of from $6 to $18 per share on the stock for the next 20 years."

There is quiet, continuous accumulation going on in this stock. I know that a Calumet and Hecla official has bought some to hold for permanent investment.

The American Nickel Company can make nickel at the same cost that Amalgamated and Calumet and Hecla can make copper.

Copper sells for 15 cents a pound.

Nickel for 45 to 60 cents a pound.

The demand for it is unlimited. An alloy of nickel with steel makes steel harder, stronger, lighter and last five times longer. In all the industrial arts this metal nickel is superior to copper for almost every purpose. The American Nickel Company own the only developed nickel mines in the United States.

Calumet and Hecla went up from $2 to $000 a share and has paid $87,000,000 in dividends to shareholders. Old Dominion went up from $1.50 to $53 a share.

American Nickel stock will go up to $60. American Nickel stock will go up to $60. American Nickel has been developed and is managed and controlled by the same able, experienced men who formerly owned one half of the entire capital stock of the Calumet and Hecla and nearly all the Old Dominion was a stock of the Calumet and Hecla and nearly all the Old Dominion was a stock of the Calumet and Hecla and nearly all the Old Dominion was a stock of the Calumet and Hecla and nearly all the Old Dominion was a stock of the Calumet and Hecla and nearly all the Old Dominion was a stock of the Calumet and Hecla and nearly all the Old Dominion was a stock of the Calumet and Hecla and nearly all the Old Dominion was a stock of the Calumet and Hecla and nearly all the Old Dominion was a stock of the Calumet and Hecla and nearly all the Old Dominion was a stock of the Calumet and Hecla and nearly all the Old Dominion was a stock of the Calumet and Hecla and nearly all the Old Dominion was a stock of the Calumet and Hecla and nearly all the Old Dominion was a stock of the Calumet and the calumeter and the cal met and Hecla and nearly all the Old Domet and Hecka and nearly all the Old Dominion stock.

American Nickel shares are being hammered and pounded down by powerful bankers while they secretly buy. The floating shares on the Curb market are nearly all absorbed.

70,000 shares have passed from weak and ignorant holders into strong hands.

The stock has been bought by Paring, Maroun & Co., J. P. Morgan & Co., Post & Flagg, Parkinson & Burr, Dick Pros. & Co., Foster & Lounsbery, G. W. Dougherty & Co., Sheffield & McCullough, Malcolm & Coombe, Halle & Stieglitz, Zimmermann & Forehay, Wolf Bros. & Co., Frank Pooton, Henry Clews & Co., Allen, McGraw & Co., De Coppet & Doremus, Weed & Leslie, Poody, McLellan & Co., H. K. Burras & Co., S. N. Warren & Co. I advise my clients to hold their stock for big dividends.

Look for the start of a great rise any day now.

All bankers and brokers and members of stock exchanges of principal cities execute orders to buy and sell American Nickel on the New York Curb market. Later on it will be listed on the New York and Boston Stock Exchanges.

I believe American Nickel will sell at $60 a share. I make a specialty of executing orders in it on commission. Valuable information mailed free FRANK POOTON, Stock Broker,
